A Chair Reborn

As part of its 65th anniversary celebrations, Danish furniture brand BoConcept has relaunched the Adelaide dining chair. The latest incarnation is, says the firm, "a step up from the original Adelaide dining chair – with greater variety, comfort and design sophistication". The revamped piece is now part of the Adelaide Living Collection, along with a sofa, coffee table and barstool. All four new pieces share the organic lines of the original dining chair. "Since its introduction, the Adelaide dining chair has been one of BoConcept's signature products," says BoConcept. "The new collection flawlessly combines classic Danish design with a modern Scandinavian twist – extending the Adelaide's Nordic expression of subtlety and simplicity."
